"I never saw such prosperity; I never saw such meat esters, and I never saw such good judges of meat. I have been up night and day for a week selling meat, and before I leave a man in the morn ne he doubles his order, and then, when I go back the next week he gives me fits for not sending him double the amount. Everybody wants Dold's ment because they say 'if it's Dold's it's the best.' You can't sell anything else in Okta-homa. They know that more than half of Dold's ment is much of Oklahoma. home. They know that more than near of Dold's meat is made of Okiahoma seven-months-old bogs, and that they are the best. They know that the bal-since is made of southern Kansas hors and that they are the next best. I never saw anything like the revival in favor of home institutions. In Okiahoma the Deld house is considered a home institution, because it makes such a near and first-class market for Oklahoma hoss. Every pourd of most Oklahoma buys from Dold makes that much extra room it's the real co-operation-the genuine reciprocity that statemen talk so much about, and it doesn't take much of a state-man to sell that it is the of a state-man to sell that it is the right thing." Mr. Rellly thinks that Oklahoma, inside of twenty years, will be the best state in the Union, not excepting Kansas, it would do one good to hear thin sall about the sell state.

Japan is a land without the domestic animals. It is this lack which strikes the stranger so forcibly in looking upon Japanese landscapes. There are no cows—the Japanese neither drink milk nor can meat. There are but few horses, and these are imported mainly for the use of the foreigner—the carts in the city streets are drawn by coolles, and the pleasure carriages are drawn by min. There are but few dogs, and these are neither used as watch-dogs, beats of burden, nor in hunting, except by foreigners. There are no sheep in Japan, and ers. There are no shrep in Japan, and wool is not used in clothing, silk and cotton being the staples. There are no

Stock Market Is One of Selling to Take Profits.

BREAK IN WHEAT PRICES

Ineffective to Stay the Market —Gold Situation.

New York, July 12.-Today's stock market was but adull and uninteresting affair and marked the further relapse from the manipulated rise of the earlier part of the week, which came into evidence yesterday. Selling to take profits was the order of the day and the bears put tensive scale is sufficiently shown by the closed 2 1-200c higher.

The opening tone of wheat was rather strong, epiember strating at an advance of 1-ke to 3-ke, at 30 1-203-ke. This was declines took place in the forencom. dealings took place in the forenoon, when the buil interests were making futile efforts to continue the advance. The efforts were not put forth in the opening transactions and the sympathetic depression from foreign markets was allowed its full effect. The weakness there was due to renewed fears regarding the Chinese situation and to the mishap to the British forces in South Africa. The effect here was purely sympathetic, and when it was seen how small the selling for London account was the bulls braced their energies and attempted to resume control of the market. The pressure of profit-taking which met the advance when last night's level of prices was ap-proached discouraged the attempt and the market was allowed to lapse into an almost lifeless stars. The sharp break in the wheat market, which might be fairly construed as indicating a more hopeful feeling regarding the crop, was powerless to sustain the stock market, Small as the offerings were, they were sufficient to drive prices sharply below last night's lavel. The grangers, Southwesterns and some of the railroad stocks were most notably affected, but there were examples of weakness all through the list, both of railroads and specialties The Steel stocks became notably weak sion that the general reaction in business will curtail the consumptive requirements for iron and steel, whatever the ultimate basis of prices may be. A further advance in the sterling exchange rate, the hardening of the London discount rate and the continued decline in the gold reserves of the Bank of England led to the optnion amongst international exchange houses that further shipments of gold from New York to Paris are likely to be made next week. At the same time, today's reduction in discount rate of the Imperial Bank of Germany and a further relaxation in the private discount rate in Berlin makes it probable that Berlin has been forther reducing its loan obligations to New York. A liquidation of fareign borrow-ing accompanied by an export move-
